Tutor and Teachers Assistant August 2021–Present

As a Teacher's Assistant and Tutor, I supported instructors in virtual class sessions and provided students with personalized guidance on mastering HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and open-source frameworks like React, Express, and Material UI. My role emphasized enhancing students' technical skills, troubleshooting code issues, and fostering their growth as Full Stack Web Developers.

- Collaborated with instructors to deliver live demos and lessons, ensuring clear teaching of core web development concepts.
- Provided 1-on-1 tutoring, assisting with homework, troubleshooting code, and building skills in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and frameworks.
- Guided students in the use of open-source libraries such as React, Express, and Material UI, helping them apply these technologies in real-world projects.
- Assisted in enhancing student problem-solving techniques through tailored guidance, building their confidence as Full Stack Web Developers. Junior Web Developer

Shmoody

Full Stack Developer June 2022–December 2024

As a software engineer at Shmoody, I played a pivotal role in developing and enhancing the app's core features, utilizing cutting-edge technologies like React Native, Redux, AWS, and GraphQL. My contributions directly influenced user engagement, app downloads, and content sharing.

- Contributed to the implementation of the flagship "Action Plan" feature, increasing in-app user interactions (215.7k actions) and driving 5,000+ custom action plans.
- Co-developed a cross-platform mobile app with a team of engineers using React Native, Expo, and AWS AppSync, resulting in 175k+ downloads.
- Contributed to an audio player with React, Redux, and a tiered playlist system, which supported over 1,500 daily plays.
- Established deep-linking integration with Appsflyer to enable content-specific links, driving 1,500+ app shares and enhancing user experience.
